

Arrival by plane

Naples has an International Airport called “Capodichino”. The airport has good links to main European cities like London, Paris, Frankfurt, Munich and main Italian cities like Milan and Rome by direct flights. It is located at a 7 km from the city centre. Participants are suggested to fly directly to the Airport of Napoli Capodichino, scheduling stop in one of the main cities. For information about Naples Airport and flights, please visit the web site:

Capodichino Airport: <http://www.aeroportoedinapoli.it/homepage>

Alternatively, the best and closest destination is Rome Fiumicino. From this Airport participants will need to take a train called Leonardo Express leaving from a railways station located at the airport from platform 24 every 30 minutes (tickets cost euro 14,00). Leonardo Express takes about 32 minutes to the Railways Station of Rome Termini. From Rome Termini fast trains called Freccia Rossa and Freccia Argento leave about every hour to Naples, taking about 1 hour and 15 minutes. For timetable of trains connecting Rome to Naples and back please visit the web site: www.trenitalia.com/tcom-en

For Leonardo Express go to Trenitalia page and search for “Fiumicino” <https://www.trenitalia.com/tcom-en>

A taxi service is available at the airport in Rome but the distance between Rome and Naples is about 200 km, so the taxi will be really very expensive.

Arrival by train

The main railway station of Napoli is called Napoli Centrale – Piazza Garibaldi. Naples has good train connections through Fast Trains (Freccia Rossa or Freccia Argento) with all main Italian cities. The station is linked to the city centre by underground, public buses or taxi. For further information and schedules visit the website: Trenitalia www.trenitalia.com

To move from Central Station to your final destination you can take Taxi or Metro.

Taxi

Taxi lane is located in front of the arrivals both at the airport and at the station. Flat rates are in use for predetermined urban and suburban routes (Fuorigrotta, City Center, Molo Beverello, Mergellina, Pompei). The predetermined rates include any extra charge (to/from airport, night ride, holiday, luggage, animals). For predetermined fares, there is no need to use the taximeter. The fixed rate is for the total number of passengers on board the taxi.
